At the first general meeting of members for the formation of the class, the title of the society should be resolved upon, the laws of debate agreed to, and a secretary elected, whose duty it will be to keep minutes of the proceedings. General meetings should be held half-yearly, to confirm, amend, or extend the laws, and to elect or re-elect the secretary. At the ordinary meetings, after the election of the chairman from amongst the members, the secretary should read the minutes of the previous meeting. When they have been confirmed, the chairman should call upon the gentleman who has undertaken to open the debate, to address the meeting. It is then usual for the seconder to speak; and afterwards the other members, at their pleasure. When all who wish to speak have spoken, the chairman calls on the...
