CREATION, CHARACTER, AND WISDOM (PAPERBACK)

Wipf Stock Publishers, 2016. Paperback. Condition: New. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand .While the traditional Christian engagement with environmental ethics too often begins and ends with Genesis, this project joins numerous recent efforts by biblical scholars to identify new foundations on which Christians can make ethical choices about creation. Wisdom literature, a largely untapped resource, offers a unique point of entry for environmental ethics. Despite their marginalization in ethical debates on the environment, the biblical sages have a great deal to say about the inseparability of God's creation and righteous living--observations that must then be brought into conversation with a host of contemporary disciplines. As the crisis of environmental degradation permeates the lived experience of more and more Christians, it is increasingly critical to have solid and biblically defensible foundations from which to make moral choices about the environmental behavior of individuals, corporations, and nations. Dave Bland and Sean Patrick Webb are skilled in finding the wisdom in creation in the biblical Wisdom literature. . . . If you wish to number your days so as to get a heart of wisdom, take and read. Become attentive to the voices and the lessons of the nonhuman world together with which we make up a single community of creation. --Holmes Rolston III, University Distinguished Professor and Professor of Philosophy, Colorado State University The Hebrew sages saw the wonder, order, and agency of God's creation, and this literature is often neglected in environmental discussions. Dave Bland and Sean Patrick Webb draw out the meaning of their insights for contemporary ethics. Using the social and physical sciences as well as the arts, they connect character, justice, and creation to offer a wonderfully shaped and deeply informed Christian environmental ethic. --John Mark Hicks, Lipscomb University; Author of...
